DETAILED ACTION

Claims 11-20 are pending in this application.

Action Summary

1. The examiner acknowledges the cancellation of claims 1-10. Therefore, any and all rejections and/or objections directed towards them are hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
2. Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tawashi (US 5,648,101).

Applicant claims making a transdermal patch comprising providing a drug reservoir layer containing an hematinic substance and applying a layer to a rate-controlling membrane.

Determination of the scope and content of the prior art

(MPEP §2141.01)

Tawashi teaches in example 9, column 10, lines 11-19, a transdermal patch comprising a cellulose matrix impregnated with a ferrous sulfate solution. The patch further contains a backing layer.

Ascertainment of the difference between the prior art and the claims

(MPEP §2141.02)

Tawashi does not teach the patch comprising a rate-controlling membrane.

Finding of prima facie obviousness

Rational and Motivation (MPEP §2142-2143)

Although Tawashi does not teach a rate-controlling membrane applied to the drug reservoir layer, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to do so. The addition of a rate-controlling layer is well known in the art of making transdermal delivery devices as a method of controlling the amount of drug delivered to the skin over a predetermined period of time. Therefore, the addition of a rate-controlling layer to the patch of Tawashi would allow a constant delivery of the drug for the time period of not exceeding 1 hour, so that a systemic effect is not produced.

Conclusion

3. Claims 11-20 are rejected.
